Joan Cornellà is a Spanish cartoonist and illustrator, famous for his unsettling, surreal humor and black humor comic strips as well as artwork. Illustrating 'Jeffry' to be suicidal but putting on a brave face at the same time.

I feel we can all relate to Jeffrey at times.

His comics frequently explore themes such as violence, absurdity, and the macabre aspects of modern life. He often critiques social norms, consumerism, and human behavior in a way that is both unsettling and thought-provoking.
